He said it was the belief of the underwriters that if a fire started on the upper floors of one of the highest buildings it cannot be checked, as the water pressure is insufficient, and he feared that it would spread to many other high buildings, entailing an enormous loss. His board, he said, advocated limiting buildings entirely for office purposes to 125 feet in height and from 20,000 to 30,000 square feet should be the limit of the floor area.

Calvin Perkins, president of the Municipal Art society, was also in favor of limitations. He said the courts do not take account of the height of the building and light and air.

REPORT GIVEN ON 'PHONE STRIKE'

Commission Finds Little Consideration Given to Health of Employees

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—In February last a royal commission was appointed to enquire into the telephone strike in Toronto. W. L. Mackenzie King, deputy minister of labor, and Judge W. J. Byrnes, ex-justice minister, were the commissioners. After two months' work in Toronto and Montreal and a thorough enquiry was made into the whole matter.

Reasons of Report.

The reason of the strike was the length of the hours of work from 5 to 8 hours, which the operators said they could not stand. The evidence showed that the operators were not earning enough to pay for their board and lodging, and this was the reason given for lengthening the working hours. The commissioners say that the health of the operators was not made a matter of first consideration by the company, otherwise operations would not be carried on with a high rate of speed after its effects upon the health of the employees had become known.

No Regard for Employees' Welfare.

It was a common practice to work a five-hour system to work a certain number of days each month for a period of 10 hours. It was for commercial and business reasons rather than motives of humanity that the company adopted the new system. The question of profits to the company was not considered in relation to the remuneration of the operators. As the Bell Telephone company is a monopoly there was no excuse for not having regard for the welfare of its employees.

This might be urged with less reason in the case of competitive industries. Fair-minded investors would hesitate to accept of a company which had been earned at the expense of either the health or well-being of the employees, and this led the commissioners to remark that it was desirable to give no thought to the possibility of having a due regard for the business case to matters in which public utilities like the Bell telephone are engaged on operations.

Doctors Deem it Unhealthy.

Some twenty-six medical practitioners were examined and they testified to the nervous strain of the work. They showed that operating was not a wholesome employment, but matter what the hours were. The commissioners say that they agree entirely with the view expressed by the local managers that "it is the pace that kills," and the working conditions at high pressure at work of this kind should be made a crime of law, as it is a crime against health. The arrangement effected as to the hours was at 7 a.m. until 10 a.m. and 9 hours. The length of working day is still too long and ought to be reduced to 8 to 8 1/2 hours. In regard to the use of the telephone by the operators, the commissioners say: "That that kind of language of international origin by means of the listeners have been admitted we would recommend, and the commissioners, that the criminal laws applying to news improperly obtained by means of telegraph operators or officials be amended, so as to apply to telephone companies. They proposed that a permanent commission board of representatives of operators and the officials, as a means of settling all difficulties on their side."

Vandalism in His Detour.

Brooklyn, Sept. 12.—The jury in the Vanderbilt case has brought in a verdict deciding that the jury is incompetent to look into his affairs. The proceedings were held against Edward Ward Vanderbilt, Jr., who is charged with the murder of his father, under the influence of "Bright Eyes," otherwise known as the mercurial Miss Mary Scannell Pepper, a high priestess of opium, had given away much of his money. A conservator for his estate will probably be appointed.

SHOTS FRIEND; ENDS OWN LIFE

Man Accidentally Wounds Companion Then Jumps in Front of Train

Kittanning, Pa., Sept. 12.—Following the accidental shooting of his companion, Robert Ramsey, junior, shortly after midnight, Howard Riley committed suicide by jumping in front of a train near his home at Kittanning early today.

Ramsey and Riley had started on a lark, and when passing a farm house decided to get some potatoes for a feast. Ramsey went into the farm house and Riley to the chicken coop. While Riley was in the coop Ramsey opened the door. As he struck a match Riley, thinking it was the owner, shot Ramsey through the breast.

When Riley found his friend shot his friend he became almost insane and, though terribly injured, succeeded in getting the weapon from him. Riley took the injured man home, then hurried for a doctor, remaining near the bedside until early this morning when he went home, told his mother of the shooting and returned to Ramsey. He seemed to be overcome with grief.

Without saying anything he left the house, walked to the railroad track himself, and then came along three himself in front of the locomotive and was ground to pieces.

Ramsey still alive, but his recovery is doubtful.

College For Teamsters.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—The grimy-faced coal wagon driver with a diploma in his pocket may not be as much an unusual combination in Chicago when J. J. Cavanagh's "College for Teamsters" gets into operation. The first steps have been taken to launch the college with an idea of developing teamsters along scientific lines.

Cavanagh, who is secretary of the Chicago Team Owners' Association, has been making some statistical investigations among the seven thousand drivers under his jurisdiction, and he believes that at least twenty per cent. are deficient in mental handling. He proposes to educate these men by a three months' course of class room work, supplemented with lectures. At the conclusion of the term if a driver gives a satisfactory examination he will be graduated with a degree of "expert teamster."

Bill Co. Must Come to Time.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Legislation will be passed at the next session of the parliament to carry out the recommendations made in the report of the telephone commission. Special attention will be paid to the listening boards making law applicable to news improperly obtained or divulged by officials or telephone operators. # GAS MAN WILL BE IN EDMONTON IN FEW DAYS

Will Institute Negotiations for Purchase of Site for International Heating and Lighting Co.'s Plant—Plant Will Cost a Million—The Success of Corn Cob Gas.

Cyrus R. Eaton, business manager of the western plants of the International Heating and Lighting Co., of Cleveland, will be in the city within a few days, to complete the preliminary work connected with the establishment in Edmonton and to discuss a million dollar plant for the manufacture of artificial gas from corn cobs and straw, franchise for which the company has been granted in both Edmonton and Strathcona.

Whether this will be the purchase of a site for the plant in Strathcona is not known. It is generally understood that the one plant will be made to serve the two cities. By the terms of the Edmonton franchise work on the plant must be started by December, and completed within two years.

The operation of the corn cob gas plant in Beatrice, Nebraska, has proven an eminently successful, and it is declared that the discovery of the process of making gas from corn cobs and straw by J. R. Coats, a clever young engineer, a graduate of McVicar university, Toronto, has solved the fuel problem for the Canadian and American west, which has no coal, but has millions and millions of tons of straw, corn cobs, etc., now considered waste material. Coats worked three years on his idea and last month there was a test in Beatrice, Neb., the first result of his work—a gas plant which will not only produce gas but also produce the waste water of the farm. The new gas plant is now being experimented on a small scale, but is expected to be a full-fledged gas manufacturing, and its product is lighting gas, and also a gas in addition to furnishing gas for heating and lighting hundreds of homes.

Before One Nation Attacks Another, It Must State Its Purpose.

The Hague, Sept. 12.—The fifth plenary sitting of the peace conference, M. Nollet, president, met this morning in the Knickerbocker. The delegates were not so numerous as at the previous sessions of former sittings. Several of them temporarily left the Hague while awaiting a debate on more important questions. The whole American delegation was present.

After the minutes of the last sitting had been approved the following resolutions regarding the opening of hostilities were adopted, a few countries making reserves.

The contracting powers agree that hostilities must not begin without previous unequivocal notice having been given, either in the form of a declaration of war setting forth the motives, or in the form of an ultimatum with a conditional declaration of war.

Not all Powers. "A state of war may be notified without delay to the neutral powers, the effect for the latter beginning at the time they receive notice, which has been given by wire. In any case the neutral powers cannot be held responsible for the lack of this notice if established that they had not received it."

The sitting also approved, with some modifications, a resolution concerning the rights and duties of neutral states in the event of hostilities. The rules include the following:

"The territory of neutral states is inviolable. It is prohibited to establish military or naval bases, or any other means of communication, with belligerent forces on land or sea."

"Volunteers cannot be enlisted or a body of conscripts formed in the territory."

MORFAN AUTO RACES TRAIN. Financier Travels 12 Miles in 16 Minutes and Overhaul Express.

Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 12.—Pittsfield Morgan had the race of his life today in a high car race in which he chased the "millionaire" express for twelve miles. Morgan planned to take the train here, but missed it. He came over from Lenox in a car with Colonel Oswald Lathrop and Captain E. J. Smith of the steamers.

Allen Winton, the summer home of Charles Morgan.

Mr. Morgan planned to take the express at 4:45 p.m. When he reached the station the train had been delayed a minute. As Mr. Morgan had a request to New York tonight, he telegraphed ahead to see a request that the train be held there.

When the chauffeur let out the big automobile to reach the express to the station twelve miles away, the car carried the financier, and it is said he gave repeated orders for the chauffeur to speed up a bit. The express train reached Lenox in fifteen minutes and Morgan had been there in sixteen minutes. When Mr. Morgan boarded the train he gave the chauffeur $500.

About noon Mr. Grant went back to the Glenn place to see if the horse had been sent, but he found that Glenn was not dead, and that he had come back to "fix him sure."

EDMONTON MUST BE GREAT CENTRE

With Two Transcontinental Railways Nothing can Prevent It's Progress, Says J.E. Atkinson.

J. E. Atkinson, managing editor of the Toronto Star, the most enterprising of Toronto's evening papers, is in the city registered at the King Edward Hotel. He is accompanied by Mrs. Atkinson, and is on a four-day tour of the west, having visited Winnipeg, Regina and Calgary. Mr. Atkinson is one of the most prominent newspaper men of the east. He took hold of the Toronto Star when it was struggling, and by the injection of his own energy he succeeded in developing it to its present position in the front rank of Canadian newspapers.

This is Mr. Atkinson's first visit west, and like every other customer, he is struck with its vastness. "I think," he said, "that Edmonton has quite as beautiful a site for a city as Quebec, and the beauty of a city is not the least important factor in it. The fact is the physical features of this north country are magnificent. The characteristics are so diversified that the country is relieved of the monotony of the prairie."

Mr. Atkinson was not only impressed with the general appearance of the whole country, but he has an eye to its commercial prospects. "The future of Edmonton holds within it limitless possibilities," he said. "I cannot see how it is possible to over-estimate it. With two transcontinental railways running through the city, and with an easterner's appreciation of what a railway means to a centre, I am confident that five or ten years hence this city will be one of the great centres of the Dominion. Nothing can prevent it."

Happy Event Turned to Gloom

Miss N.D. Sept. 12—While driving to Minot with her husband to prove their claim, Mr. Alverson died in the road and the journey which was to have been such a happy one ended suddenly and sadly. Mrs. Alverson had been suffering for some time from consumption, but the end was not looked for. She started out yesterday morning with her husband intending to be a witness when he proved his claim. She was mortified that she grew pale. She fainted, falling back into the seat. From examination he discovered that she was dead.

Howley Has Been Released

Last Her Life in Vein

Toronto, Sept. 12—The Government investigation into the Orangewood wreck of the C. P. R. Labor day excursion in which seven were killed and two hundred injured, is expected to take a drastic turn shortly. The demand of some of the local papers that a warrant be issued for the arrest of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy as a preliminary to placing the responsibility for the tragic affair is being urged upon the main line of law that came into being as a result of the accident. Sir Thomas is being urged to resign. Another radical result of the investigation over the wreck is expected to be the handing of the reins of the administration of all railways in the province now managed from Montreal. It is claimed that the administration of Ontario railways from Montreal is responsible for the recurring accidents in this province.
